

eco.love Wines company profile eco.love Wines is the brainchild of Andrea and Robin McBride – two sisters with a shared desire to make the world a better place, while having fun in the process of doing so. This desire was the spark that grew into the eco.love Wines, a selection of fantastic New Zealand varietals produced and crafted in conjunction with The New Zealand Wine Company – the first carboNZero^{Cert™} certified winery in the world. The McBride sisters thorough knowledge of New Zealand Wines and shared progressive ideals, made the creation of eco.love Wines a logical and rewarding dream come true.

The whole idea behind eco.love Wines was to create wines that not only tasted great, but that also set an environmental benchmark in global wine production. We see it as the start of something special, something that will grow and have positive knock-on effects as our company grows – a rebirth within the industry. This ethos is at the heart of every decision we make, here are some of our core practices in the fight against global warming.

Philosophy

Making wine is a labor of love. Our philosophy is to produce wines of the highest quality that perfectly reflect the region in which they were made, while also putting environmentally sound, sustainable values at the forefront of their creation. Our wines are an expression of who we are, and of a way of life we truly believe in.

“Be passionate and true to yourself; give back to this big blue bubble we call home and enjoy every moment of life. The rest is sure to follow.”

Wine for the New World!
